About Monthly Internet Statements: E-Mail statements provide all information available on paper statements. Your statement will be attached to an e-mail message instructing you on how to access your bank statement. The message will contain a sequence of steps guiding you through the procedure. Images of checks for the month are easily accessed with your statement. You may print your statement for your convenience and permanent retention.

If you choose to receive information electronically, and we have not yet developed the means for electronic delivery of that certain information, we will continue providing that information on paper until it is available electronically.
